DataSys Launches Online Training Program for Microsoft Dynamics GP

Marlborough, Mass. – July 1, 2016

DataSys Corporation is proud to announce the launch of an online training program designed to meet the ongoing training needs of Microsoft Dynamics GP clients. Launched in July, the schedule runs through December with several dates available for two levels of Mastering Accounting Payables and Mastering Management Reporter.

“Training is at the heart of our commitment to our clients,” explains DataSys Founder and President Lisa Daigle. “It was part of our mission statement 20 years ago when we opened our doors and it’s just as important in 2016 as we celebrate our 20th anniversary.” In the past, DataSys offered a wide range of classroom training opportunities throughout the year in its own training center located in its Marlborough, Massachusetts office. Now, in an increasingly virtual world, Web-based training allows DataSys’ clients to participate from the comfort of their offices or homes. Given increasingly busy schedules in accounting departments, an obvious benefit of online training is to eliminate travel time and still take advantage of training conducted by a live instructor.

Daigle continues: “Even in a virtual environment we still limit the class size so the training can be personalized and there’s plenty of time allotted for Q&A. We want our clients to come away with in depth knowledge, whether the curriculum is at a basic or advanced level, both of which are offered.”

Many clients will choose to register for both sessions, such as Mastering Accounts Payables Part I followed by Part II one week later. The scheduling allow time for participants to internalize and use the skills taught in Part I before progressing to Part II.

Additional topics, such as Microsoft Dynamics GP Hosted Solutions and GP Security will be added to the 2016 schedule as the program expands. The dates and times available for our current offerings can be viewed on our Web Based Training page.

DataSys will continue to offer classroom training in Marlborough on a periodic basis and client-specific training via the Web or at the client’s office.
